It is a tremendous honor to serve as the Coordinator of the Commonwealth Student Association, overseeing the regular management of CSA (administratively), supporting the Executive team and their regional objectives while providing mentoring and support.

Despite the consequences of the COVID-19 pandemic, young people across the Commonwealth are continuing to have a positive effect and change in the direction of a more sustainable, equitable, and peaceful society. As a result of their constant tenacity and activism, we have seen remarkable progress in the meaningful engagement of young people in decision-making, policy formation, and all aspects of peace-building in the critical year of 2021.

Together with the team of highly passionate and dedicated leaders, we are excited to be working together to amplify student voices to key stakeholders across the Commonwealth and to improve Commonwealth youth engagement in educational development and opportunities.

In partnership and collaboration with the Commonwealth Secretariat, Commonwealth Youth Council (CYC), Commonwealth Youth Networks, and other stakeholders, we have contributed to mainstream youth perspectives in the Commonwealth's work on education and have contributed to strengthening the network's global advocacy and campaigns.

We are becoming better known as active global citizens and advocates for Sustainable Development Goal 4 and long-term development.

Despite continued hurdles, it is critical that we recognize students, youth, youth organizations, student unions, civil society, and other stakeholders' tireless advocacy for more inclusive decision-making spaces in which young people participate and contribute as equal partners.

As a corollary, we are prepared to collaborate with all stakeholders in education, including education ministers, government agencies, teachers, and civil society organizations, to achieve SDG4's goals and targets.

We are sure that collaborating with you as partners will facilitate the investment in the provision of meaningful opportunities that will empower the Commonwealth's 1.2 billion young people, allowing us to construct a better future for all.
It is my great pleasure to be addressing you, student leaders across the Commonwealth as you attend the third Commonwealth Students Association (CSA Congress today. Students play a critical role in upholding our education infrastructure and are the centre point in achieving SDG4. In fact, students and young people are the front runners in bringing our world towards SDG 2030.

Over 60% of our population in the Commonwealth is under the age of 30 and the majority of them are students in primary, secondary, tertiary and higher education. Empowering our young people with education, skills and capacity for the jobs of today and the future, resilience to overcome challenges and the right values to lead our world forward is our utmost priority.

The Commonwealth Secretariat, along with Education Ministers across the Commonwealth have understood the importance of engaging students and amplifying the voices of students as they are important stakeholders in education. At the 19th CCEM in 2015, Education Ministers came together and expressed in the communique: ‘Ministers acknowledge the important role that can be played by appropriate cooperation and collaborative national student associations, and commit to supporting and partnering with such bodies to ensure a student voice in education policy, and fit-for-purpose education.’ We have committed to supporting the formation and strengthening of a unified student voice across the Commonwealth and given the trajectory we are at, I am confident we are making good Stride.

I reflect fondly as I installed the current CSA Executive Committee (EXCO) in Fiji in 2018 at the 20th Conference of Commonwealth Education Ministers during their inauguration ceremony at the second CSA Congress. The EXCO took their oath with passion and dedication as they undertook an important responsibility of serving in the CSA and pledged to carry out their duties and obligations in a trustworthy and diligent manner. I have to say that I am very proud of the team and what they have achieved in their tenure, including overcoming a tumultuous period as we all battled the COVID-19 pandemic. The EXCO has dutifully upheld the mission and vision of the CSA, empowering students of the Commonwealth to influence change in education and facilitating collaboration between student leaders and educational stakeholders. They have represented you with passion, authenticity and humility.

As their term comes to an end, I am looking forward to welcoming the EXCO that will be newly elected in the next few months to take on the baton from the current team and keep the marathon going. We have faith in you as student leaders to take us forward as One Commonwealth.
COMMONWEALTH STUDENT ASSOCIATION OVERVIEW

Road map

At the 2009 conference hosted in Malaysia, the student leaders in attendance advocated for a Pan Commonwealth representative of student voices in the commonwealth. Hence one of the recommendations from the conference to have student leader representatives at the Conference came from the students lobbying with the support of the Commonwealth Secretary. Which lead to the establishment of the CSA in 2012 at the 18th CCEM in Mauritius.

In 2015 at the 19th CCEM, the first executive committee was elected by a student congress which was made up of students who attended the meeting and education officers further reiterated the importance of student engagement by appropriate cooperation and collaboration to ensure students were involved in educational milestones.

In 2018, during the 20th CCEM in Fiji, the second executive committee which is the current set of executives were installed, and are ready for the next set of executives to take over.

Who are we

We unify and represent the needs and aspirations of national student councils and other student organisations in the Commonwealth. CSA was launched in 2012 at the 18th CCEM in Mauritius, where student leaders gathered to make recommendations on the current student issues and decided that student voices and participation in education policies are critical for the democratization of education.

What we do

We represent, advocate and build capacities of students and student organizations across the Commonwealth and aim to be a credible voice and a valued partner in effecting change in education by empowering students to contribute effectively to development in their societies. We uphold the values of the Commonwealth, while seeking to contribute to a world where students are given opportunities to meaningfully address issues within education and fields of development.

How we do it

Create an environment for student bodies and student movements to build their respective and collective capacities, to freely express and advocate for issues concerning students. Promote student voice and participation in policy and decision making in Education. We will unite students across the Commonwealth and enable them to positively impact the Commonwealth agenda and global development.

Our Vision

To empower the students of the Commonwealth to influence change in education, contribute to their societies, amplify the student voice, through the collaboration between student leaders and educational stakeholders.
Our Mission

Our mission is to unite, build the capacities of and provide students with opportunities across the Commonwealth to address issues within the fields of education and global development, advocate and represent students on relevant platforms at a national, regional and international level.

Region and Members

The CSA placement is under the umbrella of the Commonwealth Youth Programme (CYP). As per the governing structure, she said that the CSA congress is the highest on the structure followed by the executive committee comprising of 1 chairperson, 2 Vice Chairpersons and 4 regional representatives. The 4 regional working groups each corresponding to a region of the commonwealth with the commonwealth secretariate supporting the CSA and the body of students.

The CSA governing structure mirrors that of the commonwealth spanning 4 main regions;

Principles and Values

Visible – Amplifying Students Voices
The Commonwealth Students’ Association aims to raise the profile of student associations and bodies across the Commonwealth and demonstrate the effectiveness of its work throughout Member states. The CSA will amplify the voice of students in the Commonwealth and promote greater recognition of the role of students as partners in education development.

Credible – Students’ participation in decision making
The Commonwealth Students’ Association recognizes the voices of all students within the Commonwealth. As such, the CSA will work to build strong partnerships with student associations and bodies across the Commonwealth. The CSA will also support them by advocating their concerns and offering services to develop the capacity of students to participate in decision making.

Sustainable – Mobilize resources and diversify income
The Commonwealth Students' Association aims to mobilize resources and diversify income that will help it reach its overall strategic objectives. The Commonwealth Students' Association will also collaborate with partners and stakeholders to help meet these objectives.

CSA Aims & Objectives

1. To promote, protect and defend the rights of students of the Commonwealth
2. To promote empowerment amongst the students of the Commonwealth
3. To extend the reach of collective representative organisations to students across the Commonwealth.
4. Promoting high quality student experiences and learning environments around the Commonwealth
5. To promote unity among student organizations in all Commonwealth member states,
6. The promotion of decision-making and policy implementation by students on all issues in the Commonwealth
7. To create an environment for student bodies and student movements to build their respective and collective capacities, to freely express and advocate.
8. To promote the access of a quality education to all Commonwealth citizens
9. To promote sustainable development through pro-active and inclusive participation in nation building.
10. To promote opportunities for democratic participation

Democracy and Participation Strategy

Objective: To actively recruit NSOs in countries that have NSOs and main universities in each country where NSOs do not exist, so that students are aware of CSA as an official umbrella body and voice for them at the Commonwealth.

Action Plans:
- Map out the NSOs in each country of all the regions and the major universities. In the process of a Google form so these NSOs/Universities subscribe officially to be part of CSA, it will help to raise awareness, and visibility of the CSA
- All the universities represented under the respective NSOs will be officially notified that they are part of CSA
- Announcements from CSA will be relayed to all the members of CSA who will send mass emails to students in their respective educational institutes

Benefits of joining the CSA:
- To have students’ voices heard- submit blogs on issues they are concerned with and publish them on our website.
- NSOs who are registered, a representative will be invited to the next student congress and will have voting rights like national delegates to elect the Executive Committee for CSA
- CSA will be developing a news portal on our website- newsletters of articles on regional news via a MailChimp system via CSA correspondents’ (see below) work
- Contribute to the decision-making process on education policies, exercise the right to shape our future and education
- Your voice is important, we want you on board.

Role of CSA Regional Correspondents:

One of our aims as the CSA would be to become a one-stop portal for students to approach to have access to latest developments in education or changes to policies that may impact them. To cater to this vision, the CSA has launched a new faculty, the CSA regional correspondents who will be conducting research online and gathering relevant information on changes in education policies and/or updates to the education system, new recommendations that can shape the future of education for students in the respective regions.

We also aim to incorporate opportunities such as... scholarships, internships, exchange opportunities over our term as we build more partnerships and collaborations.

Engagement & Partnership Strategy

The CSA aims to mobilize resources and diversify income that will help it reach its overall strategic objectives. The CSA will also collaborate with partners and stakeholders to help meet these objectives. Under its sustainability work the CSA will:

- Develop a strong network of partners and stakeholders helping to deliver its work.
- Develop diverse income streams

CSA 2021 Agenda Sub Themes

Item 1: Improving Governance Structure And Supporting The Electorate

- Our aim for the year is to develop Terms of References for each position of Executives and Contribute to the CSA Constitution Review.
- One of our priorities is to set up the Elections roadmap and Election rules & Regulations and provide Support for the planning and hosting of the Student congress as well as develop Voters List.
- During the Election Period, and immediately afterwards, we will Support the handover and transition of responsibilities to the new CSA Executive team. We will ensure that this is done in close coordination with the current CSA Executive Team and the Commonwealth Secretariat.

Item 2: Support the Commonwealth Secretariat IT team to build a membership database platform with multiple functionalities whilst improving CSA communications

- Our aim is to Increase membership and Stakeholder Regular Engagement. We have made plans to do this by collaborating with other Youth networks to revamp the CSA website Shared online hub.
- During the period, we will rebrand and harmonize CSA social media platform.
- We will work with CSA Communication Executive to come up with a 6-months communication strategy for inclusive dissemination of information.
- Design impact stories report template for all the regions and increase visibility, outreach, inclusion and membership of CSA;
MEASURING PROGRESS
In the month of June, 2021, the Network coordinator, Precious Ebere, facilitated the pioneering of certain key educational developments in some commonwealth regions.

We enhanced the Commonwealth's youth participation in educational developments by coordinating their engagement and increased visibility in policy discussion and meetings at the commonwealth and United Nations level.

As a result of the pandemic, the 10th African Students and Youth Summit was organised virtually on 22 and 23 June, 2021 and the CSA was in close partnership with the organizers.

On 21st June, 2021, the CYC Elections POA special learning for all commonwealth Youth Network was held. The objective was to help the arbitration process while focusing predominantly on fact finding and recommendations on the way forward.

Sequel to the CYC hearing, a meeting was held between the Cosmec and CSA coordinator. This meeting had in attendance, the Assistant Programme Officer - Asia Region Economic Youth & Sustainable Development Directorate - Eileen Goh and key CSA deliverables were addressed.

CSA OVERVIEW PRESENTATION
by Dr Musarrat Maisha Reza

The CSA Chairperson officially introduced herself as Dr. Musarrat Maisha Reza, she beckoned on Eileen Goh to ensure all members have been admitted and registered and Precious Ebere for the slides as she began the CSA Overview Presentation with the following headings;

She reiterated the CSA vision, mission, CSA history by following the governing structure of the Commonwealth, and then the Road Map.

According to Dr. Maisha, the student congress as the highest body of the CSA consists of nominated individuals or heads of delegations from each member NSO (National Student Organizations) and SU (Student Union). She continued by saying there two types of members; full members and associated members.

Funding

Since the CSA is not a legal entity, all funding is by the CC, no other funding from any other channel of funders, funds are replenished annually by member states.

She closed and thanked everyone and said they will be room for questions during the Q&A session. She spoke about the membership call and room for the next session, she invited Winnie Nyandiga (Vice Chairperson – Democracy & participation) for the section on the constitution.

She advised members to drop their objections during the constitution review in the chat box.

ADOPTION OF THE CONSTITUTION
by Nyandiga Winnie

Dr. Maisha thanked Winnie Nyandiga and she introduced herself to the members. She began by reiterating the preamble second paragraph of the constitution, and said that it is still the same aside the change on that particular paragraph.

She went to the values and said the values are into bolds instead of just singles to affirm authority. The major amendment is the vice chairperson which is only two, there is need for another vice chairperson as the advocacy and partnership position is overwhelming so need for vice chairperson for communication and research.

She stated that it is necessary for everyone to read the constitution as it has been sent to everyone via email by Precious Ebere.

The use of basic English to strengthen the constitution, and said the constitution is left the same for now.

She handed over to Dr. Maisha to continue, who gave room to attendees to look at constitution and give feedback before moving on to Q&A.

Eileen advised to proceed with Q&A while members go through the constitution and if they are no objections until after the Q&A then the constitution will be adopted.

DR. Maisha agreed with her and the session for Q&A was opened.

QUESTIONS & CLARIFICATIONS FROM CONGRESS
by Eileen Goh

Eileen Goh called on members to drop their questions or request for copy of the constitution via the chat box.

Question: Falit Sijariya (India) - Is there provision in the constitution for the duration between 2 congresses?

Answer: Dr. Maisha – while the initial constitution says not more than 4yrs, the revised constitution states that the period between two congresses should not be more than 6
Dr. Maisha welcomed everyone back to the meeting, introduced the agenda and the CSA elections electoral board as follows;

She then handed over to the RO to continue with the presentation.

Pegah greeted members and introduced herself and beckoned on members to drop their questions and additions at the end of each stage of the presentation.

She gave a brief talk on her experience with Commonwealth elections which dates back to 2015 including CYI as RO. She stated that a document with more details of her experience and that of the EB will be shared by the end of the meeting. She then moved on to have the members of the EB introduce themselves.

After the introductions from the EB, Pegah began the presentation with the following subtitles;

Timeline of the elections
Showing the deadlines and activities which begins on Monday 29th of November 2021, at 12noon, elections on the 25th – 26th, and announcement of result on the 28th by the RO.

Procedure of the elections
This was shared and Pegah added that elections will be held online and dates can be extended to ensure everyone’s participation and collection for votes.

She then handed over to the RO to continue with the presentation.

Pegah greeted members and introduced herself and beckoned on members to drop their questions and additions at the end of each stage of the presentation.
Online Election Procedure
Pegah stated that although the Commonwealth electoral procedure updated in 2015 was used, it does not include any details for online procedures peculiar to the CSA, so the EB has put up the online procedures and other articles which will be shared with members for indebt reading after the meeting.

Complaints Procedure to the EB
According to Pegah, an article on complaints procedure has also been added to manage and investigate complaints that arise in the course of the electoral process. She said the complaints can be sent to electoralboard@gmail.com or via a zoom session like that of the congress.

Code of Conduct
The article was added with the required list which will be in play during all phases of the election.

Campaigning Procedure
Pegah handed the session over to Mukesh who read out and explained the list and requirement.

Announcement of Result
Pegah reiterated that voting will be open for 24hrs which is subject to extension by the RO with a submission of a justification.

What Next?
Pegah stated that election nomination will be open from Mondays and urged for dissemination of the elections to networks and called for registration for the 6th of December information session and for members to their emails regularly for communication.

Checklist for Candidates
This was put together by Mukesh for candidates and delegates. It contains eligibility criteria and guidelines.

Upcoming Information Session
After the 6th December information session, the next communication session will be with the candidates on the 3rd of February.

Recommendations From The Commonwealth Students Association (CSA) (Students' perspectives collated from regional consultations from 1-3 April 2022)

The proposed sub themes Recommendations:

1. Equitable access to learning and education
   Inclusive, student-centred recovery is key to leaving no one behind.
   Governments to prioritize an equitable, socially just and inclusive student-centred response to recovery from COVID-19 and leverage the capacity of students to build back better education systems.

2. Education and the future of work in the Commonwealth
   Governments and education stakeholders to prepare students for the jobs of the future by investing in skilling students and ensuring that formal education transmits adequate skills that anticipate labour market needs.
   This preparation should also encourage, through informal education platforms, life-long learning, equivalencies and skills development, using information and communication technology (ICT) where appropriate, and using the growth of digital technologies across sectors, such as eSports, as a vehicle for investment and employment generation. Particular emphasis should be placed on the green, blue, orange and digital economies, acknowledging that certain economic sectors offer important opportunities to absorb young workers.

3. Financing of education including innovative financing
   Public funding should guarantee stability and sustainability in the development of education based on wider goals and not short-sighted financial benefits.
   Governments should increase education financial commitments, and reaffirm to meet international and regional obligations and standards to funding public services, including 20% of the domestic budget for education. Prioritising long-term economic planning with meaningful and sustainable public investments in education.

   Governments to provide appropriate resources for higher education institutions to further strengthen joint research, capacity-building, professional development and mobility of students, faculty and staff.

The Overarching Recommendations:

Strategies to promote innovative solutions (including remote learning and digital products) and sharing information among member states.

We the students of the Commonwealth believe that we are in a strong position to contribute to and benefit from digital transformation and innovation.
Strengthened ICT and innovation ecosystems lead to a more productive economy, the creation of decent jobs and access to markets, networks, finance and information. For ICT and innovation ecosystems to thrive, it is imperative that leaders invest in the development of the multiple components that together comprise the ICT and innovation economy. These include, inter alia, infrastructure, skilled talent, networks, regulations and policies among others.

Given the inequalities that exist between and within countries in the Commonwealth as regards access to technology for students, it is essential that the approaches leaders take towards the strengthening of ICT and innovation across the Commonwealth are based on principles of equity and access-for-all.

Leaders should therefore work to develop and engender an enabling, inclusive environment that fosters digital transformation by driving, supporting and strengthening the design and implementation of appropriate legislation and policies, the development of infrastructure and support services, and sound capacity-building strategies and mechanisms to encourage innovation.

We the students of the Commonwealth, therefore, call on:

A: General

Governments and stakeholders to invest in the development and expansion of ICT infrastructure and support services, with the view to significantly increasing access to ICT, providing universal, affordable access to the internet, enhancing the creation and use of technology and technology-enabled services and using the growth of digital technologies across sectors, such as eSports, as a vehicle for investment and employment generation.

Governments and stakeholders to address the digital divide and inequalities that exist as regards access to ICT by focusing on strategies and policies that increase access for underserved and disadvantaged students’ while also supporting students’ ability to be critical and responsible users and producers of information and technology.

Governments and educational institutions explore and develop approaches that improve educational systems at all levels, by ensuring they are equipped to provide students with the skills, competencies and tools to contribute to and benefit from digital transformation.

This will include, interalia, redesigning curricula, instruction and assessment that facilitates 21st century skills-building in line with the requirements of the future of work.

Governments and educational institutions to address youth skills gaps and inequalities by ensuring equitable access for all in adapting to the future of work. This involves strengthening technical and vocational, education and training (TVET) and lifelong learning programmes for young people to equip them with relevant digital skills and innovation methodologies.

Governments and stakeholders recognise that net neutrality and the right to privacy are critical issues that will ensure quality access to important technologies. Leaders should therefore take action, legislative and otherwise, to develop and promote policies that engender data security, net neutrality and the free flow of information.

Governments to strengthen youth ministries in the area of ICT and innovation by training staff in relevant technology and innovation methodologies as well as encouraging the application of technology and innovation in youth interventions.

Governments and stakeholders to promote an evidence-based approach to youth policy development through the use of technology, including access to up-to-date, systematic disaggregated data that will inform the design, implementation and review of youth policies, programmes and initiatives, supported by inter-agency collaboration at the regional and international levels; and the inclusion of youth within research teams and statistics units, in particular young female researchers and statisticians, who continue to be underrepresented in these fields.

B: ICT Development

Governments ensure that national infrastructure development is subject to community-based assessment and decision-making aimed at addressing local needs across spatial contexts (urban, peri-urban, rural), while promoting integrated fit-for-purpose territorial development.

Commonwealth member countries to secure an agreement that deems the internet as a basic public good. This agreement should form the basis for a coordinated initiative to address “internet poverty”, within a specified timescale. The objective is to ensure that all Commonwealth citizens, including those from marginalized communities, can achieve common standards of digital literacy and benefit from the opportunities afforded by the internet.

Commonwealth member countries to develop standard ICT syllabuses, to equip all students’ with the skills to positively contribute in a digital world. These syllabuses should be tailored to the needs of individual countries and/or regions, and be available through all mainstream and alternative educational institutions. Students’ should be involved in their development, from the outset, along with relevant ministries of education and corporate partners. They should be supported by a robust legal and regulatory framework, and input should be sought from employers and internet providers.

C: Innovation

Commonwealth member countries recognise the need to keep all Commonwealth nations connected by developing physical and digital platforms that enable young people across borders to exchange ideas, build consensus and reach decisions for a common way forward.

National and local governments provide appropriate resources for higher education institutions to further strengthen joint research, capacity-building, professional development and mobility of students, faculty and staff.

Governments and other stakeholders to forge partnerships aimed at equipping students’ with the skills and resources to be key agents in addressing the challenges they face by making investments including financial capital, mentorship and capacity-building training.

CSA 2022 AGENDA
CSA 2022 Agenda

In 2022, our primary objective is to coordinate the establishment of the National Student Organizations (NSOs) in the region that are without NSOs. Our strategy is to train and empower secondary and tertiary students to organize themselves into forming institutional and national student governing bodies. We aim to build capacities of student leaders so that they are engaged as partners in delivering SDG4: Ensuring inclusive and equitable quality education and lifelong learning opportunities for all. Through our Strategy, the CSA will be the link between governments and decision makers and advocate for student voices at the decision-making table as well as ensure that students have the capacity and are deserving to sit on the decision-making table.

Recommendations

Ahead of the CSA election, the electoral board recommends that CSA hold two (2) additional candidate information meetings before the election. Because of the time zone, the first session will take place before the application deadline, and the second session will take place during the application period. These sessions can be recorded and made available to the network.

To avoid the members questioning or challenging the general conduct of the CSA Executive Committee elections (CSA elections), I will recommend a substitute plan be put in place by Exco (via open call or appointee) to set up a Steering committee to manage the elections.
Thank you for taking this journey with us right to the end of this page. We would continue to engage NSOs both at local, national and international levels onwards. Student engagement is increasingly a critical tool in developing a more relevant and inclusive curriculum. The student voice is important and NSOs have the potential to act as partners in developing effective student engagement strategies. NSOs also have a good deal of potential power and influence through the collective action of their members in bringing pressure to bear on decision makers, but also in supporting an experience of a democratic environment that sets a benchmark for wider society. Activism within a students’ organization can facilitate the development of transferable employability skills, campaigning for gender equality and reduction of tuition fees.

Students are critical in influencing the future. A well developed, established and structured national student body is essential in representing students’ voices, needs, concerns and feedback to decision makers.

We are open to working with stakeholders to apply the voice of students and young people across the Commonwealth region.

The Commonwealth Students’ Association invites student-led organizations and student unions across all the Commonwealth regions to apply to join our network!

Access the application form and relevant documents here: https://forms.gle/paj98H98Ugj8PbQm8

We would continue to work closely with the Commonwealth Secretariat in Education and Youth Leadership, to provide capacity building support to National Student Organizations.
